From August 26th to August 28th 2015, the FORCCAST consortium will host its second summer school on controversy studies in Paris (at ENSCI - les Ateliers). This series started in 2014 and will continue for the next 5 years. Tailored for early career university teachers and researchers, it is designed to qualify and promote the diffusion of methods and tools for controversy mapping. Participants will take part in a collaborative effort to not only dig deeper into the question of what controversies are, why they are interesting, and how they might be mapped, but also produce a series of examples and conceptual illustrations to help us crystallize our thinking and teaching in this respect. In 2015, the summer school will be organized around several activities: research and pedagogic innovation reports and discussions, tutorials, and a tools workshop.
